

7 Confident Texts to Tell Her You Like Her

When most guys compliment a woman, they either go way over the top and creep her out... or they put her on a pedestal and give all their power away.

You don't want your compliment to lie in any of those extremes. So what do you do?

Well, the Magnetic Messaging System teaches a simple "TRICK" to giving out a compliment...

Make It a JOINT Compliment!

This means compliment HER, while complimenting yourself at the same time.

Another way to do it: Make a cocky statement about yourself while giving her a compliment (or also making her look good).

When you act like a badass and at the same time give out value, it is precisely what creates "CHARM."

Now you have 7 texting templates that compliment her while keeping your power, and I have listed these templates below in this report... but is important to note that there are plenty of other ways to give out compliments... and that you can take any of the templates listed here to craft your own texts, and in your own style.

Onward. Let's get started.

The first text cheekily implies that you both look good... by suggesting that if you both had kids... they would look good.

1. Zoolander Children

“We must spawn Zoolander children. Keep your day planner open for tomorrow”

This text (credit Rob Judge co-creator of Magnetic Messaging) is a perfect example of a text that is both cocky, and compliments her.

You are implying that both you and her are good looking, plus suggesting sex (spawning children) in a cocky way. (Note: you aren't being explicit or graphic either, you are hinting about sex in a cute, but confident way)

2. The Old Work Break

“Need a work break, looking for a cute girl to distract me”

Readers of Magnetic Messaging know the importance of blurring the line between cockiness and sweetness.

The section in Magnetic on the “couple compliment” breaks down EXACTLY how to simultaneously give a compliment while also making yourself look cool in the process.

This old work break text creates that effect.

3. Hire her / Fire her

Whenever she mentions something she's good at, or an area where she has experience, tell her you're "hiring" her to help you with it.

This compliments her skill and ability, but it also frames you as being in a position of POWER... and also gives you a reason to "fire" her at any time (in a playful way of course)

"You seem like a smart girl who's on the ball. I'm hiring you as my personal assistant."

"So you know about all the nightclubs. I'm hiring you. From now on you're my personal party planner whenever I have friends come to town."

Get the idea?

You can "hire" her to do anything.

If she's good at cooking, she'll be your personal chef.

If she's stylish, she'll be your fashionista or stylist.

If she's fit, she can be your gym trainer.

Now the fun part is that when she says something corny or lame, you can "fire" her:

"Oh my God, I can't believe you just said that. That's it-- you're fired. Tell the girl over there in the red dress she can submit her resume."

It's a push and pull game that is all in good fun.

Most importantly, you're keeping your personal power and showing her that you're the one in control and calling the shots.

These type of roleplaying banter will create sexual tension and make her want to PROVE herself.

4. The "Know Any?" Magic Date Text

"There's a nerdy movie I want to see, but I need a cute nerdy girl to watch it with... know any?"

An awesome text to have in your back pocket if you're not sure how to make the move to get her face to face with you.

This text is part compliment, part cocky, and part tease. You are calling her cute while at the same time teasing her by negating the invite with the "know any" at the end.

Brilliant.

5. Use the Point System

“Okay, I'm going to ask you something but be careful how you answer, because this answer is worth ten points...”

The point system is a very fun game to play with a girl when you're getting to know her. When you playfully give her points for having some skills and qualities, you frame yourself as the one with more power... displaying your confidence.

At the same time, giving her points can be coupled with a compliment, but you are still the “decider” in the situation.

Use this similar to the hiring/firing (technique #3).

Give her points for being a good cook.

Give her points for being stylish.

Give her points for liking a band that you like.

Take away points for liking a band you don't like.

Not only is it fun when you give and take points away... but you can REALLY ramp up the sexual tension with the push/pull nature of the point system.

6. The Romantic Commando

“haha it's stormy... wish you were here to cuddle under a blanket, drink wine, and watch a RAMBO movie”

This is a great text to send to a girl you're seeing, or have in a "holding pattern" (i.e., a girl you're trying to meet up with, but logistics are screwing you over).

It's sweet and romantic... but also manly as Chuck Norris in a vat of testosterone.

Be Prince Charming, but keep your manly dignity.

7. “I’m so glad you’re not _____.”

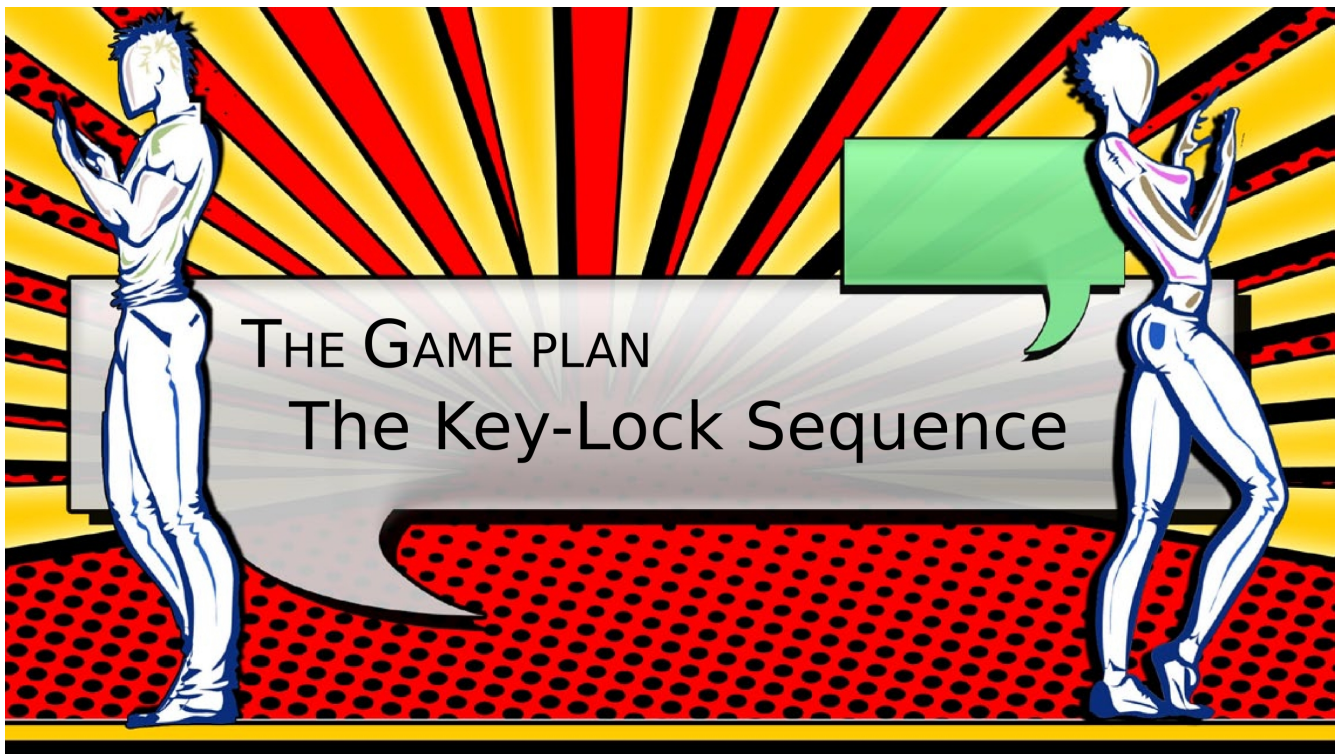

Here's another way to mention a positive about her from a point of authority and power.

People-watching/gossip is total flirting material. Mention a pet peeve and then connect over your mutual disdain for said irritation.

For example “I'm so glad you're not clingy and call me 17 times a day”

Not only does saying this compliment her, you also suggest you're not the clingy type (one less thing she has to worry about)... which makes you even more attractive.

Now, it's time to formulate a texting game plan...

In this video you're going to learn how to turn your phone into a magnet... by using a specific sequence of texts called: The Key Lock Sequence
